What can I do?

Surgeries are looking for volunteer 'Wellbeing Guides' to visit lonely, isolated patients at home. This could mean sharing the occasional cup of tea and chat or helping with some minor practical tasks. You might even be able to introduce them to a group or an activity in the local neighbourhood. There is great satisfaction in seeing someone who is isolated become part of his or her community again.

Or you might like to be a volunteer driver to transport older patients to and from their appointments. Some patients have no access to personal or public transport and find it difficult to get to the surgery. By driving them you will help to reduce missed appointments and save doctors or nurses having to make time consuming home visits.

If you would like to know more about becoming a surgery volunteer one of our Surgery Organisers will be happy to meet you to answer your questions. If you are happy to proceed, we will ask you to fill in the RSVP membership form and give us two referees. RSVP membership is free and gives you personal accident and third party insurance cover. You will also be asked to agree to a DBS (Disclosure and Barring Service) check done through your surgery.

What will I get out of it?

Volunteering for your surgery provides a valuable service and you will become an important member of the team. You will meet other volunteers regularly and will be offered interesting, short training courses at no cost to you.

Research shows that staying active and volunteering results in better physical and mental health and a longer life.

What time will I need to commit?

You decide how much time you want to spend in a week or month. Just inform the volunteer coordinator of your availability.
